Flexcin International, Inc., a natural supplement company offering the only joint pain remedy products with CM8, offers arthritis and bursitis treatment for anyone suffering from pain-related disease and injuries. The primary component of Flexcin is CM8 (cetyl myristoleate) which functions in three different ways. First, it acts as a highly effective lubricant in the joints, muscles and other tissues, allowing them to move smoothly. Decrease or loss of morning stiffness is commonly noted shortly after starting supplementation. Next, CM8 functions as an anti-inflammatory. Relief from swollen joints is often seen after the 4th or 5th week of supplementation. Third, CM8 is also an immune system modulator which can be effective against autoimmune diseases like as osteoarthritis and gout. CM8 relieves joint pain at its source, reducing inflammation and irritation of the joints and tissues. It's also been helpful for relieving muscle tension and fibromyalgia. Flexcin also contains other ingredients like glucosamine and offers a version for pets. People living with arthritis and joint pain can take the Flexcin challenge, a three-month supply of Flexcin with CM8 that comes with a money-back guarantee. For more info, www.flexcin.com, www.flexpet.com or call (800) 505-0575.

Founded in 2007, Auri Footwear set out to fill the gap between fashion forward technology and cutting edge styles. "Dress shoes that utilize running shoe technology. Boots that look good going out on the town, yet can easily handle a technical hike. And they absolutely had to look great with jeans," says the company CEO, Ori Rosenbaum. Using premium full grain leathers (mostly high quality Italian leather) and new multi-zoned linings developed for NASA, Auri Footwear incorporates certified technological materials, like Outlast for temperature regulation. Acting as a buffer against extreme temperature that builds up inside footwear, Outlast Technology reduces sweat and keeps feet drier and more comfortable. Other technologies include Dri-Lex for moisture control, a removable anatomical footbed with polyurethane construction for comfort, full TPU heel to midfoot stabilizer to reduce fatigue and add support to the arch and SEBS GEL in the forefoot and heel. Auri Footwear combines all this with reviving the lost art of artisan shoemaking. Offering their customers boots, sports fusion shoes, sandals and dress shoes, Auri Footwear's contemporary materials and designs offer unmatched comfort, construction and support as well as the hippest styles. The company's new line includes: "Drifter," a sport fusion shoe, "Ladies Man," a dress shoe fashioned on the bygone era of Hollywood when men were men, and "Fallen Angel," a boot featuring a full high abrasion rubber outsole with full 4.5 mm lugs for maximum traction. In fact, many celebrities are Auri fans - Benjamin Bratt, Mario Lopez, Jamie Foxx all wear Auri shoes. The shoes are comfortable in the boardroom or on the boardwalk. Made with impeccable craftsmanship, they're well worth the investment. Besides, why should women have all the choices? Auri shoes can be purchased at select retailers across the country.
